Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 (a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Reissue Applications

Specification

1. There are several re-issue applications for patent 5790172 (patented application 08/503604). The current re-issue application must be amended to include a cross reference to all the other related re-issue applications for the patent at line 1 of the first page of the specification.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 14, 17 and 18 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14 and 22 of co-pending Application No. 09/631,540. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are different definitions or descriptions of the same subject matter, varying in breadth. For example:

Art Unit: 2611

a) the claimed “recording medium used for an information on demand system” (lines 1-3) of current application claim 17 corresponds to “an information receiver....on a recording medium” (lines 1-4) of the ‘540 co-pending application claim 14;

b) the claimed “recording reproducing apparatus for recording the information into a recording medium” (lines 7-9) of current application claim 17 corresponds to the “recording said information on a recording medium” (lines 3-4) of the ‘540 co-pending application claim 14;

c) the claimed “charging means for charging a different amount....” (lines 10-14) of current application claim 17 corresponds to “said information charged differently....” (lines 5-8) of the ‘540 co-pending application claim 14; and

d) the claimed “wherein a unique identification (ID) information is detected....” (lines 15-19) of current application claim 17 corresponds to the “said recording medium evaluated to determineincludes an identifier prior to permitting....” (lines 9-13) of the ‘540 co-pending application claim 14.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to readily recognize that the conflicting claims are different definitions or descriptions of the same subject matter varying in breadth.

Art Unit: 2611

The limitations recited in current application claim 14 corresponds to the limitations recited in the '540 co-pending application claim 14.

The limitations recited in current application claim 18 corresponds to the limitations recited in the '540 co-pending application claim 22.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. Claims 14, 17 and 18 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14-16 of co-pending Application No. 09/631,542. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are different definitions or descriptions of the same subject matter, varying in breadth. For example:

a) the claimed "recording medium used for an information on demand system" (lines 1-3) of current application claim 17 corresponds to "recording medium for recording information" (lines 1-3) of the '542 co-pending application claim 14;

Art Unit: 2611

b) the claimed “recording reproducing apparatus for recording the information into a recording medium” (lines 7-9) of current application claim 17 corresponds to the “recording medium for recording information” (lines 1-3) of the ‘542 co-pending application claim 14;

c) the claimed “charging means for charging a different amount....” (lines 10-14) of current application claim 17 corresponds to “wherein recording of said information...effects charges for said information...” (lines 8-10) of the ‘542 co-pending application claim 14; and

d) the claimed “wherein a unique identification (ID) information is detected.....” (lines 15-19) of current application claim 17 corresponds to the “an identifier, wherein said information is recorded...based on a presence of said identifier”.” (lines 4-7) of the ‘542 co-pending application claim 14.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to readily recognize that the conflicting claims are different definitions or descriptions of the same subject matter varying in breadth.

The limitations recited in current application claim 14 corresponds to the limitations recited in the ‘542 co-pending application claim 14.

Art Unit: 2611

The limitations recited in current application claim 17 also corresponds to the limitations recited in the '542 co-pending application claim 15.

The limitations recited in current application claim 18 corresponds to the limitations recited in the '542 co-pending application claim 16.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Note to applicant

5. Applicant is notified that any subsequent amendment to the specification and/or claims must comply with 37 CFR 1.173.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-13 would be allowable because the prior art fails to disclose or suggest an information on demand system comprising a charging means for charging a different amount (or subscriber discriminating means for discriminating) for the case in which the information is provided to a display means, a recording means or to both the display and record means or a subscriber apparatus comprising a recording and terminal control means having subscriber identification and information identification from a server as recited in the claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Horton et al. disclose a television system having different three modes: a) view only; b) view and tape for fee; and c) view and tape for free. See column 3.

Yoshizawa et al., Schuchman and Russo disclose billing for recording in a CATV system.

Verduin discloses different fees for playing a record and viewing a video.
